

FOR GOD SO LOVED...

CHILE

Although Chile ranges from the Atacama Desert in the north to Antarctic regions in the south, approximately 90% of its 18,000,000 people dwell in the middle of the country near the capital of Santiago. Its government and economic system have steadily increased in stability since the '80s. With decreasing birth rates, the society is aging, and many are entering to eternity unprepared.

- ◇ Predominately Catholic
- ◇ Approximately twice the size of California
- ◇ 98% speak Spanish
- ◇ Includes Easter Island and Isla Sala y Gómez
- ◇ Home to many immigrants including Romani, Jews, other Latinos, and the Highest Palestinian concentration outside of the Middle East

FOR GOD SO LOVED...

CHILE

Although Chile ranges from the Atacama Desert in the north to Antarctic regions in the south, approximately 90% of its 18,000,000 people dwell in the middle of the country near the capital of Santiago. Its government and economic system have steadily increased in stability since the '80s. With decreasing birth rates, the society is aging, and many are entering to eternity unprepared.

- ◇ Predominately Catholic
- ◇ Approximately twice the size of California
- ◇ 98% speak Spanish
- ◇ Includes Easter Island and Isla Sala y Gómez
- ◇ Home to many immigrants including Romani, Jews, other Latinos, and the Highest Palestinian concentration outside of the Middle East