

Known as the land of fire and ice, Iceland has been an independent country for over 300 years. Over 90% of Iceland's 300,000 people are urbanized, many living near the capital of Reykjavik. The state church is Lutheran, and most people are trusting in the empty forms of religion.

Known as the land of fire and ice, Iceland has been an independent country for over 300 years. Over 90% of Iceland's 300,000 people are urbanized, many living near the capital of Reykjavik. The state church is Lutheran, and most people are trusting in the empty forms of religion.

- ◇ About the size of Kentucky
- ◇ Have a recent Bible translation
- ◇ Westernmost European country
- ◇ High rate of literacy, and sense of community
- ◇ Covered in glaciers with over 100 volcanos

- ◇ About the size of Kentucky
- ◇ Have a recent Bible translation
- ◇ Westernmost European country
- ◇ High rate of literacy, and sense of community
- ◇ Covered in glaciers with over 100 volcanos